HUANG Ch'iang (黃昌), *a former Cantonese official, has recently arrived in Hong Kong from Indochina. His address is 119 Boundary St., Kowloon. HUANG served in Hanoi during the early part of the Sino-Japanese War as expeditor of war materials to the interior of China. When LU Han went to Indochina after the Japanese surrender, he took HUANG with him as his adviser. HUANG has many close connections with Chinese in Indochina, as well as with French military and civil officials.
